The Hanford Reservation contains irreplaceable strubble habitat - the best left in the Northwest.

I support the DOE preferred alternative with the following changes:

- all areas that are uncontaminated and are not needed for cleanup be designated a National Wildlife Refuge. This action should be taken as soon as possible by issuing a separate Record of Decision.

- grazing shall not be permitted.

- mining shall be permitted only when needed for cleanup and should be avoided west of highway 240 if at all possible.

- Except for the B Reactor museum, development along (within 3/4 mile) of the Columbia Reach shall be limited to boat launches & other low impact activities.

The less development the better!!
